

Right now the Seniors are King of the Hill but over 90% of them will become freshmen again next year. The choice of a college will be one of the most important decisions they will ever make. To help them find the right school is the task of Father Norbert Eberhardt, S.J., and his College Reading room. As College Counselor, he provides information, advice, and an opportunity to meet from thirty to sixty college representatives a year.

Beginning in the second semester of their Junior year, students are encouraged to see Fr. Eberhardt about test dates, college choices, and financial aid. He has all the academic records and helps guide the student into the correct field of study. For the undecided student, Fr. Eberhardt suggests, "Liberal Arts, because it is a vehicle in developing a person. It does not stress specific facts which will become outmoded in ten years."

A student must decide what size and location of school he wants. Fr. Eberhardt says, "A big school offers more courses than a small school, but in a small school you become personally acquainted with the teachers. A student can become a tiny pebble on the beach in a large school, while a small school can offer a real community."

Key Club

By Mark Griffin

The Key Club has recently made history here at Marquette High. According to Father O'Brien, the moderator and advisor of the Key Club, the club is probably the first to have twins as officers. Chris and Al Kluth, Seniors, are President and Vice President respectively. The other officers are: Junior, Dave Ziperski, Secretary-Treasurer; and Senior, John Hickey, Lieutenant-Governor.

The Key Club is a service organization in the Marquette High community sponsored by the Milwaukee Kiwanis, with participation in the many Key Club projects open to all students. The Key Club invites students to listen carefully to an-

First, there were the Lincoln-Douglas debates; then, the Kennedy-Nixon and Ford-Carter debates. Now we have our own presidential debates here at Marquette High.

A well-attended forum, held October 7th, offered students the chance to pose questions to either or both representatives of the presidential candidates. Alderman Kevin O'Connor of the fourth district represented Governor Carter and Mrs. Marian Reiter spoke for President Ford. Mrs. Reiter works on press affairs in Wisconsin for the Ford Committee.

The format was simple. A questioning period followed opening statements given by both speakers. Questions were challenging and difficult. Mrs. Reiter commented near the close of the forum, "You are so intelligent you have scared me half to death today. So you're intelligent enough... to draw your own conclusions..." Mr. James Schmitt, who moderated and organized the assembly concluded, "The answers have been of nouncements for information concerning the Key Club's need for help. Included in the club's early activities are: Project '77, the annual Rummage and Bake Sale, and the Thanksgiving basket drive.

Project '77 is a tutoring program going on this semester. Junior Pete Hintz is in charge of this service which is provided for seventh and eighth grade minority students on Wednesday evenings at Marquette. Father O'Brien says, "It has been successful because most minority students that come to Marquette come through this program."

The Rummage and Bake Sale, was held on October 22 and October 23, in the Blue and Gold room, with an expected goal of $3,000. The money from this endeavor will be used in a scholarship fund for students with financial need who attend Marquette.

The Thanksgiving basket drive is in the planning stages, but the canned goods and money for turkeys will be given to Casa Maria, a private relief organization. "They know who is really poor," says Father O'Brien.

high caliber; the questions have been of high caliber..." A large majority of students, however, disagreed. Some felt many questions were evaded or were not answered satisfactorily.

Both representatives stressed major points. "There is a difference between quiet leadership and a lack of leadership," asserted Ald. O'Connor, and he listed areas of lack of leadership exhibited by President Ford.

Mrs. Reiter emphasized throughout all three sessions of the mock press conference that the "... two party system is vital to balance in this country," implying that we should re-elect President Ford to maintain balance between two parties because "very soon the country will be in your hands."

Mr. Schmitt said that another forum might take place in the near future if there was enough feedback. He also mentioned the possibility of a third candidate represented. Thus far, there has been a substantial degree of positive response in favor of another forum.

to discuss the situation. As a result, Mr. Radtke presented Fr. Majka with a summary of the financial needs of the Outing and Ski Clubs and the Ski Team. Fr. Majka approved the estimates and allocated a budget of $300 for the Outing Club and $150 for the Ski Club. This was seen as a surprising decision in view of the tight school budget, but it shows that the Administration has a genuine interest in these clubs.

In view of these events, Mr. Radtke agreed to continue to moderate these clubs. Mr. Fisk will still help to moderate the Outing Club. The officers of the Outing Club will decide how to organize the outings and will handle the financing.

Fees from the participants will enable the transportation stipend to last longer. The Outing Club, according to Mr. Radtke, will not be oriented towards the exclusive use of its members, but will now be able to

to Appear

Do you like writing? Do you want to tell the school your views? If so, Mr. Kreilein's literary publication is for you. In it, you can publish your best essays, short stories, poems that relate to the part of the theme. The theme for the first issue is politics.

A similar magazine, Ink, was published several years ago, but was discontinued because of the prohibitive cost. The new magazine will have a new name (as yet unannounced) and by printing it at school, the cost will be reduced to about ten cents per copy.

The publication will be staffed by about ten students and about ten faculty members. They will publish at least four issues this year, with a different theme each issue. The staff will critique the articles and hopefully improve the students' writing. The magazine will also include art designs and jokes. Its main purpose is to allow the students to express their opinions or entertain their classmates.

The budget for the Ski Club will enable it to rent buses to go skiing with the Ski Team, when the team has a meet.

National Honor

The National Honor Society consists of seniors who have maintained a cumulative average of 93% or better for six full semesters. It functions mainly as a service organization for the school and community. There are 33 members this year. Their main project will be to sponsor a presidential election in the school. Speakers will talk to the group during the year; subjects will include philosophy and economics. All members will also be encouraged to write for the literary magazine. There are over 225 scholarships available and members can compete for them. Mr. Kreilein is the moderator for the organization.
